Book our guided farm-tours that showcase sustainable cannabis cultivation practices and learn about the journey from seed to harvest, how it's done in Northern-Thailand.

Explore a range of premium, organic cannabis products, all while enjoying the tranquil surroundings of this innovative farm - finishing your evening in the clouds with a mountain dinner guided by a professional cannabis chef!

What we're about

With over 17 years of experience in greenhouse cultivation, starting from the year 2005, our farm has developed a high level of expertise in cultivating plants in greenhouses. This includes expertise in cultivating both cannabis and hemp.

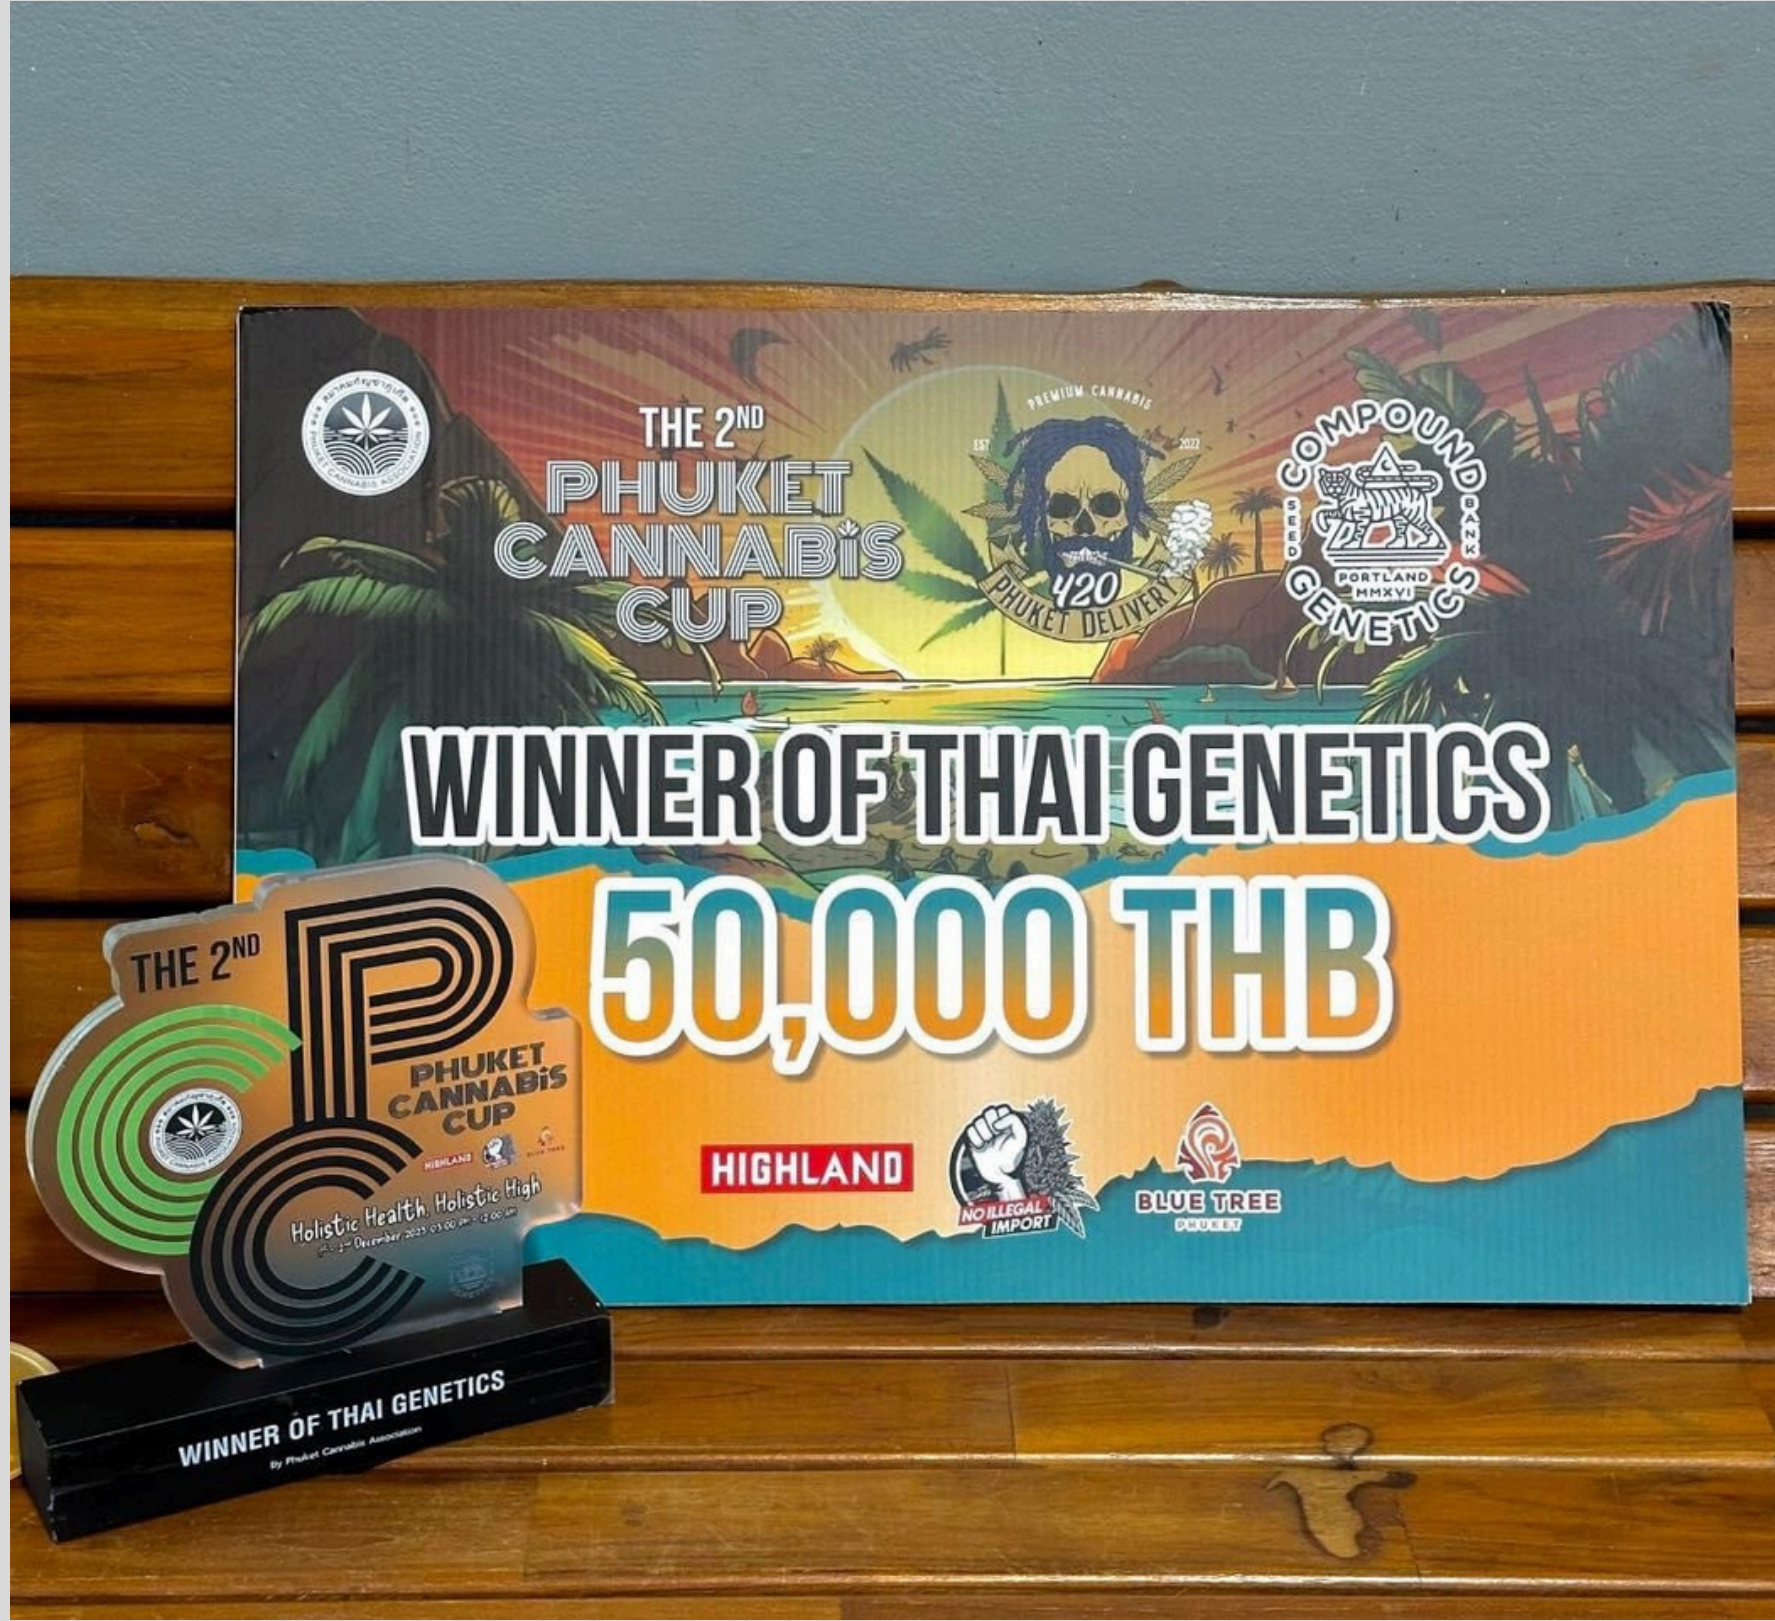

We control various growth factors such as growing medium, water sources, and light to optimize plant growth. We have also improved and customized our own nutrient formulations to suit different plant species. As a result, we are confident that plants grown on our farm will thrive, be robust, and have high-quality output. We strive to provide customers with products that are rich in quality and ensure the utmost satisfaction.

Dining in the clouds

After an eventful walk through the farm's separate areas and completing the tour's activities, you will be seated with a stunning, panoramic view over the surrounding mountains and served a mountain dinner to finish your tour. Indulge in a 3-4 course dinner menu , beverages , live music and a tasty meal curated by our cannabis Chef from Empty Plates Bangkok, tailored to our guests dietary restrictions and food allergies.

Our visitors can enjoy a regular meal with our million dollar view or opt for the cannabis infused menu option, where guests choose between CBD or THC infusion, if that is desired and welcomed.

Dosages can be individually applied and are guided by our chef. Be ready for a culinary treat one of a kind. Simple cocktails, beers and wines can be provided too!
